BRIEF INTRO

AN ENTIRE WORLD INSIDE OUR MIND

The series unfolds as intimate, abstract landscapes—tiny universes suspended between reality and imagination. Each work explores the fluid boundary between waking life and dreams, where form dissolves and color takes the lead. Through vibrant hues and layered textures of acrylic and oil, the pieces capture fleeting visions: surreal spaces that feel both expansive and miniature, familiar yet ungraspable.

Together, they reflect on how entire worlds exist within us—fragile, colorful, and constantly shifting—like the essence of a dream just before it fades.

PROCESS?

WELL... THAT WAS A LONG, CRAZY BEGINNING!

Everything starts with the idea of living in another city and growing as an artist. I'm from Toluca, Mexico, so the nearest cool place I was thinking about was Mexico City. It's an hour and a half away from where I was living. Therefore, I started in a small room on the roof of a building—nothing better than that.

I started with a decent job in the city that gave me the possibility of buying a cheap easel and starting to be creative.

One day, while taking a break from my regular job, I was walking along the street when I suddenly saw a sign for a gallery called ArtWorks, also known as Hashtag Gallery. It grabbed my attention, and that was the beginning of a great art collaboration that still continues.
